The image is a composite of two distinct user interface sections. The left section is a login form with a light gray background. It features a 'Back' link at the top left, a four-step progress indicator with the third step highlighted, a 'Continue' button, and a 'Resend' link for users who did not receive their code. The right section is a promotional banner with a light blue background. It contains a circular image of a man working on a laptop, with yellow arrows pointing towards the center. Below the image is the heading 'Open API Integration' and the subtext 'Sync and automate delivery with cutting edge technology'. The banner also includes a small globe icon and the text 'English' in the top right corner, and a four-dot progress indicator at the bottom.
